

OCT 1 1954

Admiral Robert B. Garner
Chief of Naval Operations
Department of the Navy
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mick:

STAT Many thanks for your letter of September 20 suggesting [redacted] USN Retired, as someone who could make a valuable contribution to the work of CIA. From the background sketch you gave me, he seems to have eminent qualifications, and, like everyone else, I am always interested in such men. Our problem here, of course, is finding a job for a man of his seniority.

I want, however, to explore all possibilities; therefore, I am having my people [redacted] get in touch with him.

STAT

Thank you for bringing Admiral [redacted] name to my attention. I will keep you advised of the results.

Sincerely,

GWMD

Allen W. Dulles

STAT O/DCI/[redacted]:jcp (22 Sept. 54)
STAT Rewritten: O/DCI/[redacted]ji (28 Sept. 54)
Rewritten: AWD:meo (30 Sept. 54)

Distribution:

Orig - Addressee
1 - DCI Chrono
1 - Exec. Registry
1 - Reading
1 - RWF Chrono
1 - AD/P - w/basic
1 - [redacted] Chrono

STAT

Navy

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
WASHINGTON, D. C.
OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

Admiral Robert B. Carney
Chief of Naval Operations
Department of the Navy
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mick:

Many thanks for your letter of September 20 suggesting [redacted] USN Retired, as someone who could make a valuable contribution to the work of CIA. From the background sketch you gave me, he seems to be [redacted] eminent qualifications, and, like everyone else, I am always interested in such men. My one fear is that we do not have a position open now in the near future that is commensurate with his abilities.

I want, however, to explore all possibilities; therefore, I am having my people [redacted] get STAT in touch with him.

Thank you for bringing Admiral [redacted] name STAT to my attention. I will keep you advised of the results.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director